

Sociology (SOC)

Chinese Societies, including Hong Kong Society and Culture; Classical and Contemporary Sociological Theory; Gender Studies and Sexualities; Health and Illness; Marriage and the Family; Social Networks, including Business Networks; Social Stratification; Migration; Urbanisation; Globalisation; Development Studies; Urban Sociology; Social Movements; Work and Industry; Cultural Sociology, including the Sociology of Popular Culture

Academy of Visual Arts

Research in Visual Arts can follow the conventional route of theoretical studies resulting in a written thesis, or go down the practise-led direction and present the culminating results in a body of practical works.

It includes any field that aligns with the expertise of the Academy, which encompasses but is not limited to: Body Aesthetics and Performance Art, Chinese Art, Modern and Contemporary Art, Design, Folk Art and Culture, Hong Kong Art, Interactive Media, Time-based Media, Theories of Material Culture, Museum and Curatorial Studies, Public Art and Community, and Visual Culture Studies.