

MCCP6150 Responsible Conduct of Research

1. What is MCCP6150?

MCCP6150, comprised of a number of modules, is an online course that familiarizes research postgraduate students and researchers with the core values and principles of responsible conduct of research. It aims to raise researchers' awareness of the importance of research integrity and to enhance the quality of research ethics training of the University.

2. How do I enrol in the course?

Once you have commenced your studies and activated your HKBU email account, you can register for an account on the website of CITI Program to begin the course.

3. How do I register for an account on CITI Program?

Please follow the steps in the MCCP6150 Registration Guide.

4. How many modules do I have to take? Are they all mandatory?

After you have indicated your learner group during account registration, you will be assigned a minimum of 12 modules to complete. They are selected by your Faculty/School/Academy/Department according to their own disciplinary needs. You have to complete all of them to earn a completion report.

5. What are the passing requirements?

You are required to complete all mandatory modules and achieve a minimum score of 80% for each module. If you want to improve a score on a module, you may re-attempt for unlimited times before generation of a completion report. Scores that you obtain after generation of a completion report will not be shown on the report.

6. Will my scores be shown on my transcript?

No score will be shown on your transcript. As with other MCCP courses, an 'S' grade, representing 'satisfactory', will be shown on your transcript upon course completion.

7. When will the 'satisfactory' grade be shown on my BUniPort upon course completion?

The records will be updated by the end of each month. Once updated, the grade can be found on your BUniPort account.

8. When should I complete MCCP6150?

For PhD students, you should complete MCCP6150, along with other MCCP courses, before the qualifying examination; for MPhil students, you should complete the MCCP before confirmation of candidature.
